come ashore in the next week or so," De Falco said.

Round-the-clock efforts continued to suck up the remaining oil with pump boats or to soak it up with tons of straw or similar materials.

Until the ocean and beaches can be cleared of this slime—a task that may take weeks—the slicks remain a trap for wide-winged birds that dive for fish or the long-legged ones that scour the surf for crabs and clams.

The rescue stations are bird laundries where the feathered unfortunates are washed in oil-dissolving agents, hand-dried and kept in warm pens.

One problem: Laundered birds can't be put back in the sea right away, says a Fish and Game man, because "they'd sink like a rock. They have no natural oil on their feathers." Experts aren't sure how long it will take this oil to return, but think it might be months until the next moult.

At Carpinteria, Allen Percy, an automotive engineer for the oil firm, has found it takes two men about 20 minutes to clean a small seabird such as a grebe.

Says co-worker J.G. Huffman, normally an electrical engineer: "I'm beginning to smell like a fish and think like a bird."

Nixon Hints Trusts Will Be Target

By TOM STEWART
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A call by President Nixon for legislation to control some conglomerates comes when the sprawling business empires—stitched together by mergers of companies in unrelated fields—are already under increasing scrutiny by the government.

The Florida White House said over the weekend Nixon had asked the Treasury Department to draw up legislation aimed at one-bank holding companies in which are single banks that have set up holding companies capable of expanding into unrelated areas.

An authoritative Treasury Department source said Monday that such legislation already was in the works and will be introduced in about a week. He said it would zero in not only on one-bank holding companies, but also on conglomerates comprised of manufacturing and other types of companies showing an increasing appetite for banks.

Since the number of one-bank holding companies has nearly doubled in four years, administration spokesmen said, it is felt there is no time to be lost in defusing the situation.

Spokesmen noted that there were more than 800 one-bank holding companies in December with aggregate deposits of more than $100 billion. In 1965 there were 550, mostly small ones, with $15 billion in deposits.

Word of the impending bill follows a flurry of government interest in the growth of conglomerates.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee suggested Sunday that conglomerates go slow in snatching up companies if they are depending on current tax provisions to give them a break.

The vote on the Maddox bill was 86-2. It came after intensive questioning of the author as to what the bill would do.

Rep. G. W. "Buddy" Turner of Pine Bluff wanted to delay action on the bill and set a special order of business on it for Wednesday so that the freshmen legislators could hear the pros and cons of the measure.

"This is a serious bill," Turner said repeatedly.

He said he didn't want the freshmen to be "subjected" to Maddox' views on the bill without hearing others. He said Maddox would fight for his bill, as anyone should.

"He can get up here and tell you white is black and he'll have about 90 per cent of you believing white is black," Turner said of Maddox.

"Ode Maddox ought to be a Philadelphia lawyer making $200,000 a year instead of a school superintendent at Oden," Turner said.

The teacher tenure bill, which passed 76-13, would place teachers on probation for three years and then grant them tenure at the start of their fourth year.

Any teacher fired while under tenure would be granted a hearing before the school board and have the right to appeal to the circuit court of his county.

The Senate passed the sterilization bill by Sen. Richard Earl Griffin of Crossett without debate. The vote was 31-0.

The measure would permit a guardian or parent to petition probate court for authorization to sterilize a mental incompetent who is capable of procreation.

The city sales tax bill, sponsored by Sen. Dan T. Sprick of Little Rock, failed 16-12, with 18 votes needed for passage. However, Sen. J. Ed Lightle of Searcy gave notice of reconsideration.

The measure would require local option elections in cities of the first and second class for the approval of such sales tax.

"We always hear that we're going to do something for the cities, but nothing is done to relieve their problems," Sprick said during the debate.

The Senate also passed 32-0 a bill to change the schedule of the Constitutional Convention, providing for it to meet 20 days after final adjournment of the General Assembly.

Under present law, the convention is scheduled to begin the first Monday in April.

The senate designated a bill to remove the three per cent use tax exemption given utilities and communications

Soil, Water Supervisors to Atlanta

Hempstead County Soil and Water Conservation District Supervisors attended the annual National Convention in Atlanta, Georgia, on February 2-6, 1969.

They were: Mr. and Mrs. George F. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Arnold, Mr. Sloman Goodlett, and Monroe Samuel.

The Convention was held in the Regency Hyatt House in Atlanta, Ga. from February 2-6, 1969.

Governor Lester Maddox gave a "Welcome to Georgia" Address, followed by a session of general business. Committee meetings followed the general business session. Interesting committee discussions included such topics as: Progress in Conservation Education, Teacher Preparation for Resource Education, Forestry District Programs, Market News Reporting, Recreation and Wildlife, Agricultural Research, Soil Stewardship, Keeping America Beautiful, Fish Farming, Watersheds, and many others. These committees were directed by experts on the subjects with excellent speakers to give additional information on the topics discussed. The meetings were scheduled from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., with entertainment programs after 8:00 p.m.

Bill Ratliff, president of the Arkansas Association, was the featured speaker for the breakfast. Fifty-six representatives for Arkansas were present at the Arkansas Breakfast on Tuesday, February 4.

Every state in the union was represented at the convention, and transportation firms.

Sen. Morrell Cathright of Greene Bluff, president pro-tempore of the Senate, said it was becoming "more and more apparent" that an extension of the 60-day session will be necessary.

He said the governor's tax bills would require many days of hearings and that the extension would come because of the late introduction of the bills.

"All I've heard is the reluctant realization that it appears that we will have to extend the session," Cathright said. "No one wants it."

Cathright introduced a concurrent resolution to provide for an extension. If approved by both houses, a date of extension would be set later. Final adjournment is scheduled for March 13.

Both houses convened at 1 p.m. today.

U.S., Russia to Meet on Arms Control

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. C. Smith new director of the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, will become the first high Nixon administration official to join in an international conference with Soviet representatives.

Smith's meeting with the Russians will come when he attends the next session of 18-nation disarmament commission opening in Geneva March 6.

There had been speculation that Smith's short time in office might cause President Nixon to send a temporary representative.

But Smith, in an interview, said "It would make sense for the new director of the agency to present the American position and also get to know the other disarmament negotiators."

Ultimately Smith will be deeply involved in U.S.-Soviet talks on limiting the deployment of nuclear missiles. When such talks will start, is uncertain. The nuclear missile talks are independent on the international commission.

Nixon said recently he wanted to hold discussions on this issue when the would help promote solution of political problems, such as the Middle East crisis.

Smith said that progress in arms control talks and work on solving East-West political problems should go forward simultaneously.

"However," he said, "I don't think we should anticipate a package deal. What we are talking about is the importance of parallel action in both fields."

"The linkage is obvious. Hopefully as the process develops there will be an improvement in the over-all political situation. Clearly if the Soviets invaded Romania, that would be a negative linkage. On the other hand, easing of tension could sweeten the international political atmosphere."

The Geneva conference is scheduled to take up in its regular meetings a variety of disarmament proposals, including the total ban on nuclear weapons, test explosions, control of biological and chemical warfare, prohibition of nuclear weapons installations under the oceans, and eventually a cutoff in the production of nuclear weapons.

Smith, a lawyer by profession, was director of policy planning in the State Department during the Eisenhower administration.

Much of his work in that position and earlier as an advisor to the late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, was concerned with atomic and disarmament policy.

He said he believes that increasing concern in the Soviet Union and the United States now over the cost of expanding nuclear arsenals is creating new pressures for arms control measures.

"The emphasis on the economic effects of armament is much greater now than it was some years ago," he said. "There is, for instance, a much clearer recognition of the tie between armaments costs and, for example, foreign aid."

He said later at brief news

DONALD BONE
Hope Lions Club got a preview of "Life in 1999" Monday in a program arranged by Jack McClendon, program chairman.

Donald Bone, industrial sales engineer for Arkansas Power & Light Co., spoke briefly on electric and technological progress. Mr. Bone then presented a movie of "Life in 1999" with computers playing a great part in all phases of living which included work, recreation and health.

Bone, in an earlier visit to the club, had presented a movie on the building of a nuclear powered electric generating plant in Arkansas.

In a matter of club business the club voted to postpone an Air Show that had been planned for some time, because the available date would conflict with the Southwest Arkansas Poultry Festival.

Governor Signs AU-LRU Bill

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A bill authorizing the merger of the University of Arkansas and Little Rock University was signed into law Monday by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller.

The bill authorizes the merger by July 1 of this year or as soon as possible thereafter. No funds, however, have been appropriated yet to implement the merger.

The governor said the bill was not as specific as he wanted because he said he wanted one that would create in Central Arkansas "a university of excellence."

"There are no provisions in this bill to guarantee it," he said.

Rockefeller indicated at the signing ceremony at his office that he had gotten a commitment from the Pulaski County delegation to support his tax program which is before the legislature.

He said later at brief news

Far East Allies Plan Conference

By SPENCER DAVIS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The first high-level meeting among the United States and its allies in the Vietnam war since the advent of the Nixon administration is expected to take place this spring in Bangkok.

U.S. officials said the session probably will follow immediately after the ministerial meeting of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization. No date has been announced for the SEATO meeting, but in the past such sessions were held in April.

Such a meeting would precede any summit session that President Nixon would hold with the Vietnam allies—the heads of government of Thailand, South Korea, Australia, New Zealand, the Philippines and South Vietnam.

One of the prime subjects expected to be discussed at the allied meeting would be the sequence of troop withdrawal if and when the peace talks show positive results.

The United States and South Vietnam have been discussing the possibility of substantial American troop reductions in the relatively near future as the Saigon forces increase their ability to take over more of the fighting.

The spring meeting will involve the foreign ministers of the involved countries with the United States to be represented by Secretary of State William P. Rogers.

Besides the more than half-million Americans fighting in Vietnam, South Korea has 50,000 troops, Thailand 12,000, Australia 8,000 The Philippines a combat engineer battalion and New Zealand less than 1,000.

Ministerial meetings among the allies have been held every year since the foreign troops were sent into South Vietnam. And there was one summit meeting involving President Johnson and the other allied heads of state.

That session at Manila in 1966 resulted in a formula for withdrawal from South Vietnam calling for all foreign troops to leave the country within six months of a settlement.

"Harmony in Dress" was the helpful lesson which Mrs. Dexter Alford taught with new ideas on materials, styles, and lines for looking well-dressed. Members answered the roll call with "When I feel properly dressed." Mrs. McKinney had a two-part eye-opener. The first part was a message, "Dress to suit your personality," which carried out the program theme. The second part was instructions for making a Cuckiebur Dog and a Siamese Cat from a cold drink bottle and a light bulb to be used as door stops.

The hostess had a most appropriate devotion entitled "The Importance of Hearts to Our Lives." She read Prov. 4:16-19; Prov. 23:7; and Matt. 15:16-19. Mrs. Roberts voiced the prayer.

The eyeopener was "Choice of Accessories becoming the Individual, and the Proper Occasion for Each Type of Accessory," which was described by Mrs. Esther Reid. Mrs. Tom Gray had the lesson, "Selecting the Most Becoming Lines, Material, and Color for Each Individual."

From "Family Highlights" Mrs. Fairchild used the topic "Grandparents and Parents Spoiling the Child." Mrs. Josephine Rogers gave details on building a bookcase for the home. Ten members answered the roll with "When I Feel Properly Dressed."

During the business meeting, the club voted that building a park for Perrytown would be the year's project. Mrs. Gray won the door prize, and the Homemakers Prayer was repeated in unison. ## Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — The well ordered world of television where almost everything is taped or filmed in advance, suffered little disarray after the massive snow storm that on Sunday and Monday practically paralyzed the eastern seaboard from Virginia to New England.

Just about the only really noticeable changes were on NBC's "Today" and "Tonight" shows. Today's Frank Blair was the only regular in sight. Hugh Downs, weekending and couldn't make it back to New York since the city's airports were closed. Ed Newman, NBC's competent man of all work, took over on short notice and handled his assignment smoothly. Joe Garagiola and Barbara Walters were both away from the show, too, and none of the Tonight regulars made it.

Arthur Godfrey, who usually flies back to Manhattan from his Virginia farm on Sundays and tapes a few of his CBS-radio shows, was also snowed out. In the emergency he filled his half hour with a rambling monologue which he telephoned from his southern home.

But any emergency—the East's crippling snow, the West's destructive rains, the power blackout of several years ago—serve to demonstrate the usefulness of TV's less glamorous sister, radio.

TV may have sent bulletins about the storm crawling across its screen during scheduled programs but it was radio that was the citizen's friend. While the falling snow on Sunday was still just a nuisance, the local stations of New York's metropolitan area—and presumably all through the afflicted area—were on the job. They reported the increasing driving hazards. They told of specific conditions and constantly predicted—too optimistically it turned out—the duration and size of the storm.

As conditions worsened, radio became our primary source of information through Monday. Radio told us what schools were closed, what roads were impassable, what trains were—or were not—running. It also gave us numbers to call in emergencies. Since there is always a chance that electric power may be knocked out in a storm, a good 1969 resolution is to be sure there is a transistor radio in good working order around the house as well as the usual flashlights and candles.

After hearing warnings all day about over-exertion from snow shovelling, ABC's excellent special, "Heart Attack" was especially timely.

The program interestingly showed the most elaborate treatment for heart patients, and its point was to demonstrate the work of coronary care units in hospitals. These units are still not installed in 70 per cent of the nation's 7,000 hospitals. And the heart patient taken to a hospital without such a unit, said the program's narrator, E. G. Marshall, is "not better off than he was if he had had the attack 30 years ago."

Especially impressive were scenes showing the doctors, and specially trained nurses of the unit working like a well rehearsed team a moment after the nurse noticed a change in the beat of a patient's heart, seen on a monitor.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bittel

"LUV" WILL LOWER THE VOTING AGE

Dear Helen: I have heard there is a national organization being formed to get the vote for 18 to 21-year-olds. Could you please tell us more about it and how you join?—A 19-year-old who is ready!

Dear Ready: LUV ("LET US VOTE") is headquartered at the College of the Pacific, Stockton, California. You may get a packet of information how to join and work for this national "lower the voting age" organization by writing to:

LUV
Box 3-H
College of the Pacific,
Stockton, California

Formed only two months ago by a group of college students, LUV has already attracted thousands of backers in over 240 universities.

Dennis Warren, a junior at the College of the Pacific and LUV's student leader, tells me about 40 per cent of the mail received is from adults who agree that 18, 19 and 20-year-olds have earned their right to vote.

...and mail received to date approaches the 30,000 letter mark.

National honorary chairman is Joey Bishop. The National Education Association has endorsed the movement, as have many politicians.

With this kind of impetus, LUV will surely win—if you young people make your voices heard.

First, write to the College of the Pacific for more information; next get a chapter going in your high school or college—and then, bombard your Congressmen, your local newspapers, your State legislators, magazines, radio and TV stations with—and give all your good reasons why.

Here's for a nationally lowered voting age by 1970. You can make it happen!—H.

Dear Helen: There was a letter from a woman who complained that her son got bugged when she used his modern slang, slang the adults use, and how they use it. My parents borrow some of my "things," like "it's your bag," and "Suck it to me," but they always say them sort of with quotes (as you mentioned Helen), and not as if they were taking over my language. Besides, they're pretty hip, and they use them right.

But I've heard adults say "Groovy," and I want to throw up. Kids talk about doing their thing they mean being honest with themselves, and when non-groovy adults copy this phrase, they sound as phony as would Ed Sullivan in bell bottom pants singing "Hey Jude."

I get especially burned when The Establishment picks up our good new slang and uses it in sales pitches. It sure doesn't sell the now generation.

We'll probably have to invent a whole new bunch of in-sayings—just like we dumped the twist when the old folks took it up. We try not to imitate them, wish they'd do the same for us—unless they're entitled, like you, Helen, and others who can talk our language.

JERRY
Dear Jerry: Thanks for your "swell" compliment.

Lemme know when you invent more in-sayings so I can borrow them. Meanwhile many of your generation are going back to the oldies like "scram," "swell," "keep," "dum-dum," "baby," "chick." They make it big with bell bottom pants, long beads, short skirts and all those other styles of the 20s.—H.

Ferguson to Sign With Razorbacks

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles, after weeks of worrying, formally signed Shreveport Woodlawn quarterback Joe Ferguson to a football letter of intent this morning.

Ferguson, 6-foot-2 and 170 pounds, signed the letter at a news conference.

"We're very proud to sign Joe Ferguson who is the most proven passing quarterback in high school history," Broyles said. "I've been coaching 23 years and scouting and trying to find quarterbacks like this and he tops them all. And, it's a great honor that he chose the University of Arkansas."

Ferguson, who should fit perfectly into the Razorbacks' prototype offense, led Woodlawn to the Louisiana state title last season with a 14-0 record and in his three high school years Woodlawn had a 34-4 mark.

Last season he connected on 249 out of 448 passes for 3,286 yards and 40 touchdowns. His three-year total is 493 completions of 926 for 6,726 yards and 86 touchdowns with 37 interceptions.

Broyles also announced the signing of four other players from Shreveport schools, including three from Woodlawn. They were end Mark Hollingsworth, 6-foot-2, 174, end Jim Hodge, 5-foot-11, 160 and fullback Aclie Griffin, 6-foot, 175. The other Shreveport signee is linebacker Gordon Boogaerts, 6-foot-2, 226 from Captain Shreve.

Hollingsworth set a Louisiana high school record as Ferguson's No. 1 pass receiver by catching 81 passes for 1,013 yards and 13 touchdowns during the last season. Hodge was Ferguson's No. 2 receiver.

In Arkansas, Coach Mervin Johnson signed two players in the morning of the first signing day. They were Jim O'Neal, a 235-pound tackle at Malvern High School, and Jim Brawner, a 180-pound defensive end at Hot Springs High School.

The Razorbacks also were expected to sign their first Negro football players to scholarships today. They are running back Jon Richardson of Little Rock Horace Mann and flanker Carl Lowe of North Little Rock.

Geo. Young All-America Track Star

NEW YORK (AP) — George Young, the 31-year-old Casa Grande, Ariz., schoolteacher, was named to the 1968 All-American track team Tuesday by the Amateur Athletic Union.

Young was selected as the top marathon runner. Art Collidge of Kent State was chosen for three races, the 20-25 and 30-kilometer runs, on the long distance team.

Also on the distance squad are John Mason, Fort Hays State, cross country; Steve Mathews, Denver, 15 kilometers; Bob Deines, Los Angeles, one-hour run; and Ted Corbitt, New York, 50 miles.

Maravich Great, But Tulane Wins

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
Pistol Pete Maravich shot up Tulane but when the smoke had cleared, it was Louisiana State that came out full of bullet holes.

Maravich set a Southeastern Conference scoring record Monday night, pumping in 66 points but Tulane overcame the one-man show for a 110-94 victory over LSU.

Elsewhere, second-ranked North Carolina and fourth-ranked Kentucky—only teams in The Associated Press Top Ten to see action Monday—moved to easy victories.

North Carolina bombed North Carolina State 85-62 and Kentucky rolled past Mississippi State 91-69. In other games, Georgia Tech walloped Air Force 88-67, Duke downed Maryland 93-83, Georgia took Alabama 87-78, Florida edged Vanderbilt 75-73 and Tennessee beat Mississippi 61-45.

Also, it was South Carolina 106-79 over Clemson, Colorado 92, Oklahoma 69, Kansas 45-41 over Oklahoma State, Creighton 94, Oklahoma City 80, The Citadel 79-77 over Virginia Military, Seattle over Portland U. 107-63 and Southern Miss over Spring Hill 110-79.

Tulane's balance attack led by Johnny Arthurs, Terry Habig and Bob Spurck overcame Maravich's scoring spree and enabled the Green Wave to beat LSU.

Arthurs had 29 points, Habig 26 and Spurck 17 as Tulane shot 56 per cent from the floor.

Maravich, playing on a bad knee and a sore ankle, sank 25 field goals and 16 of 20 free throws, shattering the SEC single game record of 60 scored by Bob Pettit of LSU against Louisiana State during the 1953-54 season.

The 66 points were seven more than Maravich had ever scored before. The floppy-haired junior is the national scoring leader with a 43 point-per-game average.

North Carolina scored 10 straight points early in the game to sprint in front of N.C. State and opened a 39-21 lead by halftime.

Charlie Scott and Bill Bunting led the Tar Heels to their 18th victory in 19 starts. Scott had 22 points and Bunting 21. Joe Serdich hit 26 for N.C. State.

Dan Issel's 26 points led four Kentucky double-figure scorers and the Wildcats rode a fast start to their easy victory over Mississippi State. Issel had 26 points, Mike Casey 18, and Larry Steele and Phil Argento added 13 apiece.

Manuel Washington led Mississippi State with 30 points. Randy Denton, a 6-foot-10, 240-pound sophomore, scored 30 points and pulled down 10 rebounds leading Duke to its sixth straight victory over Maryland.

Will Hetzel hit 23 and Mickey Wiles 21 for the losers.

Rich Yunkus scored Georgia Tech's first six points and finished with 23 as the Engineers walloped the Air Force. Yunkus sat out the last 12 minutes of the game.

Ted Tomasovich had 20 for Tech and Cliff Parsons led the Air Force with 19.

Wally Anderzunas poured in 29 points—23 in the second half—helping Creighton past Oklahoma City. Bob Portman had 21.

Charles Wallace led Oklahoma City with 24 while Rich Travis, who had been averaging 26.5 points per game, was limited to 14 by the tenacious guarding of Jack Ketterer and Dave Hickey.

LaSalle 5th in Poll on Basketball

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
LaSalle and Tulsa made some big strides—but it's doubtful they'll provide any immediate threat to the four powerhouses at the top of the weekly Associated Press basketball poll.

Not this week, at least, if first-time meetings mean anything.

LaSalle, 18-1, and seventh a week ago, leaped into the No. 5 slot, while Tulsa's Missouri Valley Conference leaders zoomed all the way from 11th to seventh.

However, the top four remained unchanged, headed by unbeaten UCLA, again a unanimous choice of the panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

The Bruins, winners of 18 in a row, drew 760 points—88 more than second-place North Carolina. Santa Clara was third followed by Kentucky.

It's not likely there will be any shuffling among that group since all four have displayed proven success against their foes this week.

The Bruins have only one game on tap—at Washington State Saturday night, a team they easily dismissed 108-80 last week.

North Carolina, which turned back arch-rival North Carolina State 85-62 Monday night to run its record to 18-1, has a first-time meeting with South Carolina Friday night, then takes on Clemson, a 90-69 victim of the Tar Heels earlier, the next evening.

Santa Clara, 20-0, has a return meeting with San Francisco Saturday night—a team it beat 86-65 earlier.

And Kentucky, 17-2 after beating Mississippi State 91-69 Monday night, will try for its second of the season over Florida Saturday night. The Wildcats won the first meeting 88-67.

LaSalle replaced St. John's, n.y., in the fifth spot after a 96-65 coast past Lafayette and a 76-67 conquest of Villanova, which in turn caused St. John's downfall with an 83-78 overtime victory over the New Yorkers.

Tulsa, 18-2, moved up on the strength of victories over St. Louis 80-66 and Bradley 94-80.

Davidson, 18-2, moved from ninth to eighth; St. John's, 16-3, slipped to ninth, and Illinois, 14-2, held on to 10th.

Villanova was 11th, followed in order by Kansas, Duquesne, Colorado, New Mexico State, Ohio State, Dayton, Marquette, Baylor and Louisville.

Baylor and Louisville were newcomers to the rankings this week, while Columbia, 14th last week, and New Mexico, 18th, dropped from the rankings.

The top 20 with first-place votes, season records through games of Saturday, Feb. 8, and total points:

1. UCLA (38)	18-0	760
2. North Carolina	17-1	672

Doesn't Want to be Mayor

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
PITTSBURGH (AP) — Bob Friend, former Pittsburgh Pirates pitcher who became a political success, says he doesn't want to run for mayor of Pittsburgh.

"I don't feel I'm equipped to be mayor of Pittsburgh and I think I owe a debt to the county taxpayers who elected me controller," Friend said Monday.

Friend was elected controller of Allegheny County a year ago. He was a Republican.

Jockeys Don't Hate Girl Riders, But Fear They'll Get Hurt (?)

MIAMI (AP) — Wives of jockeys riding at Hialeah don't think much of girls competing against men on the race track—too dangerous, they say.

"I know how sick my husband gets when he sees another fellow get hurt in a race," said Evelyn Adams, wife of jockey Larry Adams. "He'd feel so much worse about a girl."

"There's nothing wrong with girls racing, ... against other girls jockeys."

Sandy Boland, whose husband William, is president of the jockeys' union, says it's too rough for girls.

"Personally, I think a woman should be a woman and a mother and everything that goes with it. This business is rough; it's not for a woman."

The Bolands' daughters, Cindy, 11, and Shari, 9, now ride for fun and Cindy wants to ride in competition when she gets older. Her mother disagrees.

"I don't feel like girls should compete with men," Sandy said. "It's very dangerous."

"I think there's a great movement with women trying to compete with men in all fields. I think this is just another field they want to get into."

Evelyn Adams feels that women don't compete with men.

Reddies Sure of at Least a Title Tie

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Henderson Reddies moved a step closer Monday night to clinching a tie for their second straight Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference basketball championship.

The Reddies fought off a determined Arkansas A&M team for a 80-64 victory, leaving them needing only a victory over Arkansas Tech Thursday night to clinch the tie.

In other AIC games Monday night, Ouachita defeated Ozarks 84-79, Arkansas Tech downed Hendrix 98-82, Southern State walloped Arkansas College 73-48 and State College of Arkansas nudged Harding 85-83.

Henderson pulled away from the Aggies late in the first half and were never threatened after that. Darrell Oates paced Henderson, now 14-1 in AIC play, with 24 points. Randy Muse had 18 for A&M, now 4-11.

Ouachita remained two games behind the Reddies with its victory over Ozarks. James Chancellor and Jimmy Beard paced Ouachita, now 14-1 in AIC play, with 25 and 18 points, respectively. Phil Easley had 20 and Bob Chance 16 for Ozarks. Ouachita now is 12-3 in AIC play and Ozarks is 1-14.

Arkansas Tech had to come from behind in the second half to knock off Hendrix. Paul Brown pumped in 40 points for the Wonder Boys, and Danny Combs added 17. Dewayne Nash led Hendrix with 22. Tech now is 11-4 in conference play and Hendrix is 4-11.

Southern State finally took the lead with 3:41 left in the first half from Arkansas College and never trailed again. Billy Barnes meshed 24 for the Mulderiders and Bill Cossey scored 20 for the Scots. SSC now is 9-6 in the AIC and the Scots are 5-11.

Connie Johnson flipped in 29 points and Tommy Smith 20 to pace SCA's attack. Marvin Levels tallied 31 and Bobby McKeel 26 for Harding.

Blocked Air Transport Halts Sports

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Crippled transportation facilities in the snowed-under Northeast continued to set back the area's sports schedule today, but relief was in sight for stranded athletes and shut-in fans alike.

While snow-removal units in the Middle Atlantic and New England, states worked at clearing airport runways, rail beds and highways, two race tracks remained shut down for the second successive day.

Officials at Lincoln Downs, R.I., planned to reopen the thoroughbred track Wednesday and harness racing at Yonkers, N.Y., was expected to resume Wednesday night.

The tracks canceled their Monday and Tuesday cards after the 10-15 inch snowfall blocked access roads and left huge drifts along the racing strips.

Meanwhile, the National Basketball Association hoped to pick up its schedule following the postponement of a Monday night doubleheader at Philadelphia because two of the four clubs were unable to arrive on time.

The Boston Celtics and Philadelphia 76ers, who played in Boston Sunday, couldn't get out of that city by air or rail. The San Diego Rockets, who were to meet the Celtics, and the Cincinnati Royals, who were to play the 76ers, arrived in Philadelphia, but the twin bill was put off and a new date hasn't been set.

Several college contests also fell victim to the storm's after-effects, among them the Seton Hall-St. Bonaventure basketball game at Ocean, N.Y. It was postponed to a later date when the visiting Seton Hall team couldn't make connections out of New York.

Two winter baseball gatherings in New York, a press conference for Mets Manager Gil Hodges and a press get-together with new Commissioner Bowie Kuhn, were set back from Monday to Thursday because of the snow-transportation tie-up.

Three New York Rangers players, stranded in the snow on the way to the city Sunday night, missed the National Hockey League game against Philadelphia—only about one third of the 17,250 ticket holders showed up—but finally arrived at 2 a.m., Monday.

The Rangers, who stayed in a midtown hotel after the game, scheduled practice at a suburban rink today and then hoped to board an afternoon flight to Oakland—provided the logjam at the airports is broken.

utes while Hope employed a tight press. Winding up with 50 percent shooting from the field, Warren carried the 62-46 verdict into tonight's quarterfinal with Smackover.

NLR Moves to 2nd in State Poll

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—North Little Rock Coach Bob Bowden knows his Wildcats are playing better basketball and the record reflects the same, but he's not sure why.

"I don't think it's any one thing," says Bowden. "We were real inconsistent early in the year," he said. "We'd have a boy capable of scoring 20 who might score five and we couldn't take up the slack."

"We were hurt early by quick teams," he said, "and that's something you can't simulate in practice. We've got no body as quick as Central. If we did, they'd be playing."

Whatever the trouble the Wildcats have rebounded from a three-game losing streak by racking up seven straight victories.

"We were kind of desperate after losing those three," he said. "We kind of changed our defense a little bit but I guess the big thing is just general improvement."

North Little Rock has as much height as any other Class AAA team with 6-foot-5 1/2 Glenn Abbott and Ricky Porter and Randy Vest, both 6-foot-4. "They've all been scoring," Bowden said. "I imagine they're all in double figures the last seven games."

Porter and Vest were having trouble scoring consistently until recently.

"I have no earthly idea why," says Bowden. "Just like a baseball hitter, a basketball player has to come out of a slump on his own."

The Wildcats, ranked fifth last week in the Associated Press high school poll, advanced to second. Little Rock Central, tied for second last week, climbed back into the top spot as Fort Smith Northside thrashed top-ranked Fort Smith Southside.

Southside fell to fifth and Northside remained fourth. Unbeaten Camden Fairview jumped from sixth to third. Fayetteville, tied with Central last week, was upset by Hot Springs and fell to sixth.

Pine Bluff, Little Rock Horace Mann and Pyatt remained seventh, eighth and ninth and Searcy replaced Conway in the No. 10 spot.

Here are the results of the Associated Press basketball poll with first-place votes and teams records in parentheses and total points at right:

1. LR Central (4) (17-2) 112

Anti-Missile Plan Still in Works

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the House Appropriations Committee says emphatically "I know" work will resume on the controversial Sentinel antiballistic missile system.

Democrat George D. Mahon of Texas, whose committee holds the purse-strings for the $5.5-billion system, made the prediction in an interview Monday although he said he had no direct assurances from Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird.

But, he added, "I know the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and I know Secretary Laird, and I know what their thoughts are on this matter."

The Nixon administration last week halted the work on the system pending a high-level Pentagon review. The action followed mounting criticism in Congress and from residents of areas where Sentinel sites are planned.

Mahon said the Nixon administration not only will ask for the money to go ahead with the Sentinel, but will get it.

He dismissed congressional critics—who included notably Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky.—as representing a minority. And he said that despite opposition in areas where sites are planned, he believes the American people support antimissile work.

"The American people won't stand still to see the Soviet Union perfect an antimissile defense while the United States makes no move in this area," he said.

Congress authorized funds for the Sentinel last year. When the project was first unveiled in 1967 by then Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, it was portrayed as an effort to guard against a potential low-

Jim Green Sprint Star at Kentucky

By TOM SALADINO
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The road to success has often been a treacherous one for Kentucky's flashy sprinter Jim Green but the Wildcat sophomore appears to be on the right track now.

Green, a personable 20-year-old from Eminence, Ky.—population 2,500—first came upon the national spotlight in last year's NCAA championships when he took the 60-yard dash.

In high school, the 5-11 1/2, 165-pounder was named a football All-American at tailback, and in one game scored 10 touchdowns. He also ran track.

Although there were no facilities for the sport at school, Green trained by running on railroad beds and he says, "I often had to dodge broken glass and empty beer cans. I also practiced by running against the traffic on the state highway."

Despite the difficulties, Green became the Kentucky state champion in the 100, 220 and 440-yard dashes and with many football scholarships dangling chose Kentucky and track.

"He's one of the nicest boys you could ever meet," says his Wildcat Coach Press Whelan.

Green came to New York last weekend to run in the dash at the Madison Square Garden Invitational meet and came away with the title in meet record time of 6.0.

He had to beat three Olympians, John Carlos, Lenox Miller and Ronnie Ray Smith. Before the race, Carlos, the controversial sprinter from San Jose State, told Green: "It won't take much for me to beat you tonight."

"He responds well in the big meets. He's a real tough competitor," Whelan said Monday by telephone from Lexington.

Green's biggest disappointment came last year at the Olympic Trials.

He pulled a hamstring muscle in his leg and couldn't compete but was allowed to participate in special tryouts for competitors who were injured.

Although still hampered by the pull, Green sprinted to a 10.3 clocking in the 100 meters, missing by one-tenth of a second of qualifying for the Olympics.

But Green, a Negro, majoring in special education, also was told he would have a tough time adjusting at the predominantly white Southeastern Conference school.

"I haven't encountered any racial problems here. The people have been wonderful. I've found out that if you do well the people will respect you."

The increase brought to about eight per cent the number of Negroes and other minority group of youngsters in building trade apprenticeships in 52 cities and "this year we might double it to 16 per cent," he said.

Before the recent upsurge, the figure was below three per cent of the 50,000 construction union apprenticeships across the nation, he added.

"There'll be a big thrust between now and June when apprenticeship programs open again, and they can start to really move," McGlotten said.

"There is no quota system. As many youths as can qualify will go in," he said.

"We're trying to put down the myth that labor isn't involved in training minority groups for jobs," McGlotten said.

Building trades officials concede that much of the gain in integrating construction unions' job training grew out of federal pressure and the hope of a big surge in government financed public housing construction that will create thousands of new jobs.

Negro Jobs Tripled in Construction

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — An AFL-CIO official said today that construction unions, once a major target of racial discrimination complaints, have tripled the number of Negro and other minority group apprentices in the last nine months and might double the figure again this year.

"We're on the verge of something great," said Robert M. McGlotten, a Negro who is on the staff of the labor federation's civil rights department.

McGlotten, here for a meeting of the AFL-CIO Building and Construction Trades Department, said 2,400 Negro, Mexican-American and other minority youths were placed in apprenticeship in the past nine months through project outreach. The effort is sponsored by the federal government, the religious weddings, exempts clergymen from military service and prohibits naming ex-presses to public office.

Hanoi Aide's Trip Home Significant

By STEPHENS BROENING
Associated Press Writer
PARIS (AP) — Le Duc Tho's two previous trips home from the Paris peace talks coincided with a delicate phase in negotiations between North Vietnam and the United States. Now the chief adviser to Hanoi's peace conference delegation is on his way home again.

Tho left Monday with stops en route scheduled in Moscow and Peking, the principal contributors to North Vietnam's war effort. U.S. delegation sources feel Tho might have been recalled for a policy review. They are discouraging speculation that he is taking back a new U.S. proposal for top-level consideration.

On the surface there are no symptoms of progress in the peace talks. But the circumstances of Tho's last two trips home give support to speculation that his trial, be due to some hidden, significant developments.

After arriving in Paris last June 3 to supervise the North Vietnamese delegation, Tho returned to Hanoi on June 29. This was at the start of a summer-long lull in major Viet Cong and North Vietnamese ground action in South Vietnam and of a period of intensive secret diplomacy in Paris.

During Tho's absence, a ranking North Vietnamese official confided to the French Foreign Ministry that the lull was Hanoi's response to the American demand for reciprocity in negotiations for a total halt in the bombing of North Vietnam.

Throughout July, Washington debated whether the lull in fighting was really initiated by Hanoi and whether it was sufficient reason to halt all bombing above the 17th Parallel. But the Johnson administration decided against halting the bombing then, and Tho came back to Paris Aug. 13.

His next departure on Oct. 14 was in the midst of terminal bargaining over a bombing halt, when proposals were being exchanged between the Americans and the North Vietnamese in private meetings outside the conference hall.

Early in October, Ambassador Xuan Thuy hinted that Hanoi would agree to enlarged talks with Saigon and the Viet Cong participating even if U.S. reconnaissance flights over North Vietnam continued. This was a significant modification of Thuy's stand in the preceding five months of bilateral talks.

While Tho was home reporting to President Ho Chi Minh, the North Vietnamese signalled their acceptance of the U.S. bombing halt package. On Oct. 31 President Johnson announced the cessation of bombing. Tho returned to Paris Nov. 23, and the first session of the four-party talks was held Jan. 18.

for his drinking in the past. Miller said he opposed the bill because all evidence indicated it would increase consumption which in turn would increase highway accidents.

"Honest to Pete, that's my concern," Miller said. "If I really thought this wouldn't increase consumption, I'd vote with it."

Rep. W. H. "Bill" Thompson said the increased consumption theory "just doesn't make sense."

He said a person could buy a quart of whiskey for about $9 but to consume 32 ounces in a cocktail lounge would cost about $32.

"A man who can drink a fifth of liquor is never going to get drunk in a bar — there's too much water to consume," Thompson said.

Thompson said he would support a bill to completely dry up the state if he thought such a measure could be enforced.

But, he added, "You cannot legislate morals into people." The amendment to HB 113, the administration measure, was presented by Rep. Herbert Rule III of Little Rock, one of the sponsors of the bill.

Rule said the amendment would make legal a practice that had gone on for years — the serving of drinks in private and country clubs in dry counties.

Rep. Kirby Meacham of Monroe said he was "sick and tired of a dry county having any special favors."

Rep. Wayne Courtney of Forrest City echoed those sentiments, saying, "If they (drys) want to drink, let them move to wet counties."

The vote on the amendment was 51-38 with Speaker Hayes McClerklin casting the deciding vote.

Officers said the three waived extradition. They are charged in connection with the slaying of George Boyd Jr., 21, of Palm Beach, Fla., whose body was found floating in a canal near Palm Beach.

New Jersey Renews Fire on N. Vietnam

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — The battleship New Jersey returned to the Vietnam war after a month off the firing line and smashed 64 enemy bunkers south of Da Nang, military spokesmen reported today.

For four hours Monday, the 56,000-ton battleship hurled 1,900-pound shells at North Vietnamese fortifications which an air spotter said "have been impervious to previous strikes."

The New Jersey's bombardment was in support of South Korean marines and killed at least five enemy soldiers, a spokesman reported.

The battleship had been in Japan for routine maintenance and replenishment of her supplies.

The U.S. Command also announced another American helicopter was shot down and destroyed near Pleiku, in the Central Highlands, but there were no casualties. It was the 2,356th U.S. helicopter lost during the war.

Viet Cong and North Vietnamese forces stepped up their ground war during the night with attacks on three provincial capitals, two allied bases, a pacification team and a government infantry battalion. The North Vietnamese also fired on a small U.S. observation plane over the southern half of the Demilitarized Zone but missed it.

South Vietnamese troops were hard hit in two of the attacks, suffering 24 dead and 53 wounded while accounting for only 14 known enemy dead. The rest of the attacks caused only a handful of American and South Vietnamese wounded and light damage.

In the Mekong Delta, 102 miles southwest of Saigon, Viet Cong soldiers ripped into a South Vietnamese infantry battalion with withering machine-gun and small arms fire. After the action, 12 South Vietnamese soldiers were dead, 35 were wounded, and only seven enemy bodies were counted. The South Vietnamese soldiers may have been ambushed in the canal-laced delta, but no other details were available.

Another heavy assault came before dawn when enemy forces pumped 50 to 100 mortar rounds into Phu Bon, a provincial capital in the Central Highlands, and then stormed the town's military headquarters, firing bazooka rockets and small arms.

Again 12 South Vietnamese soldiers and at least seven of the enemy were killed, dive or six civilians were also killed, and the wounded included 18 government troops and five or six civilians.

An officer in the town said only two enemy soldiers were able to break through the barbed wire perimeter surrounding the camp and both were killed in the 50-minute fight.

The sprawling Da Nang air base and a U.S. and South Vietnamese army base 57 miles northwest of Saigon also were shelled.

merce and Industry Association reported that absenteeism at commercial establishments ran at 73 per cent.

As the cleanup operation got into high gear, the Massachusetts Department of Public Works asked the assistance of the National Guard to remove an estimated 2,500 abandoned cars on state highways.

Most of the 1,000 cars that stalled on the three-mile-long Tappan Zee Bridge at Tarrytown, N.Y., were removed during the day but the six-lane span remained closed to traffic because of clogged access roads.

Mayor John V. Lindsay made a helicopter tour of New York and then called on commuters to leave their cars at home if they tried to make it in today. However, the outlook for commuter train service was at best intermittent.

A threat to the city's cleanup was lifted when Lindsay soothed the ruffled feelings of the sanitation union leader who had charged the city refused to hire his men on overtime at the height of the storm.

New York figured to spend $350,000 on snow removal. Boston officials estimated they would spend $400,000 before the streets were made passable.

Of the deaths attributed to the storm, nearly half were the result of heart attacks while shoveling snow. In the Boston suburban area 27 persons, mostly youngsters, lost fingers in rotary snow machine mishaps.

The weather bureau said the immediate outlook for most of the affected area was for no more snow although temperatures were not expected to get above freezing.

"If only the city was like this all the time," said one man.

Then, one by one and two by two, the machines—the buses, the taxis, the trucks, the cars—began to come out into the streets again and take over the city from the people and force them back upon the sidewalks and grind the soft sweet white snow into gray grime and slush.

Wallace in New Plan for Third Party

By REX THOMAS
Associated Press Writer
MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A proposed New Alabama election law could open the way for George C. Wallace to form a new party in his own state without taking votes from Democrats seeking state and local office.

The measure suggested by state Rep. John Blanton of Selma would allow candidates to run under two or more party labels.

In the 1972 presidential election particularly — assuming Wallace runs again — office seekers could get on the ballot under the Wallace party emblem and get the benefits of whatever degree of popularity the former governor has retained.

And they could run on the Democratic ticket at the same time with the hope of getting the support of voters who prefer that party.

Under the bill drawn up by Blanton, the votes would be combined. A candidate, for instance, who got 20,000 votes under the Wallace party label and 200,000 as a Democratic nominee would be credited with a total of 400,000.

It might also encourage the election of some Republicans to state offices now held exclusively by Democrats. If the GOP discards its convention nominating system in favor of a statewide primary, a candidate could qualify for the Republican party election and run at the same time in the Democratic primary.

Blanton, a Selma attorney, said he will introduce the bill in the regular session of the legislature starting May 6. He said he has not discussed it with Wallace or Gov. Albert Brewer but probably will. He would have little chance of getting such a law enacted without their support.

Although he ran for president last year under the American Independent party emblem in most states, Wallace used the regular Democratic party machinery in Alabama.

The presidential elector nominees chosen in the party primary were pledged to support the former governor instead of former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, the national party nominee.

If Wallace tried that again in 1972 however, he could run into criticism elsewhere across the nation from voters wondering why he wants them to vote a third-party ticket while unwilling to run on a third party in his own state.

Canada Gives Nod to Red Chinese

OTTAWA (AP) — The Canadian government has notified Red China it is prepared to open talks on establishment of diplomatic relations.

Foreign Minister Mitchell Sharp told the House of Commons Monday the Canadian Embassy in Stockholm was ordered to approach the Red Chinese embassy with a proposal for talks "to be held at a mutually convenient time and place in the near future."

Sharp told newsmen the United States "and our other friends" were told of the decision in advance "so they would not be taken by surprise."

There was no immediate reaction from Washington, but State Department officials were expected to be unhappy with the Canadian move, as they were when Italy announced Jan. 24 that they planned to recognize Red China.

Sharp first announced Canada's intention to recognize Red China Jan. 22, which prompted a protest from Nationalist China. His speech Monday brought a second protest from Formosa's ambassador in Ottawa, Hsueh Yu-Chi, who said: "It is still the hope of my government that the Canadian government will reconsider."

Sharp acknowledged that Canada's relations with Nationalist China are "bound to be affected." But he denied that Canada is allowing these relations to "go down the drain," indicating Ottawa would like to have a two-China policy.

Both Chinas are against this. During preliminary contacts with Canada in Cairo, the Red Chinese reportedly demanded that Ottawa withdraw its recognition of Nationalist China as a price for diplomatic relations with Peking.

Uncounted hundreds more have been found dead on the beaches, their feathers blackened with crude oil, their eyes inflamed, their intestines burned with a purgative far more toxic than castor oil.

The runaway well spewed more than 200,000 gallons of oil into Santa Barbara Channel and along about 30 miles of Pacific Ocean beaches before it was plugged Saturday. The slick once extended over 800 square miles.

The main body of the slick was broken up by winds, waves and chemical dispersants, but great patches also soaked into the sandy beaches, said Paul De Falco, regional director of the U.S. Air and Water Pollution Control Administration.

Rockefeller Veto Is Overridden

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Senate overrode a gubernatorial veto Monday while the House passed two education measures, one to increase contributions to the Teacher Retirement System and another to grant teachers tenure.

The upper chamber also passed a measure to permit the sterilization of mental incompetents and defeated a bill to allow cities to levy a one per cent sales tax.

The senators voted 27-3 to override Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's veto of a measure by Sen. Knox Nelson of Pine Bluff tightening parole eligibility requirements.

Under the bill, a convict must serve one-third of his sentence before becoming eligible for parole. On life sentences, an inmate must have his sentence commuted and then serve one-third of the time to which his term was commuted.

When the Senate message concerning the overriding of the veto was read in the House, the representatives cheered.

"The parole system is no better than the people who run it," Nelson said. "Undoubtedly, they don't have people down there to run it."

The House spent two hours of its 5½-hour day debating the bill by Rep. Ode Maddox of Oden to increase teacher contributions to the retirement system.

The present law has a maximum five per cent contribution up to a salary level of $6,500. Maddox's measure raises the percentage to six and removes a ceiling on the amount of

Fair and Cool for Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Fair skies and cool temperatures will continue over Arkansas through Thursday.

No rainfall is expected through Thursday because a high pressure ridge aloft has cut off moisture over all of the western portion of the country except along the west coast.

Cooler temperatures are expected over the entire state tonight and Wednesday.

A low pressure trough off the west coast may drift eastward enough to produce some cloudiness in the state by late Thursday or Friday.

High temperatures over the state Monday ranged from the high 40s in the extreme northeast to the low 60s in the southwest. Blytheville was the coolest spot with 46 degrees while Texarkana was warmest with 63.

Overnight low temperatures ranged from 30 at Fayetteville to 44 at Texarkana. No rainfall was reported during the 24-hour period ended at 6 a.m.

Girl Escapes, Police Shoot Down Captor

By RUTH ANN VAUGHAN
Associated Press Writer
DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A blonde schoolgirl cheerleader, held under threat of death for 10½ hours, darted to safety Monday night as police gunfire killed her pistol-waving captor.

Janie Lewis, 17, escaped harm as the tense drama ended in a cafeteria where a long-haired parolee had confined her in a booth, rejecting repeated pleas to free the young woman. Officers identified the slain man as Freddie Robert Mullins, 21, of Dallas. They said he had served a term for armed robbery in Minnesota.

As many as 500 persons assembled at times to watch what was taking place at the Big Town shopping center in suburban Mesquite, just outside the East Dallas city limit. Heavily armed police kept the crowd at a safe distance.

Mesquite Police Chief L.H. Limmer, 33, said he motioned with his eyes for Miss Lewis to run behind a retaining wall in the cafeteria when Mullins finally diverted attention from her to unscrew a light bulb in a low-hanging chandelier.

Three bullets pierced Mullins' chest and he died as he fell.

Limmer estimated a dozen shots were fired, including three from his own pistol as the police chief ducked behind a table only 10 feet from Mullins.

Other officers reported Mullins got off a single shot from his .22-caliber weapon.

Police Sgt. L. C. Tidwell said it was about 11 a.m. when he stopped Mullins and a companion, Richard Launderville, to check their driver's licenses.

As the licenses were handed back, Tidwell related, Mullins pulled a gun and both youths jumped from their car and ran. Two warning shots from Tidwell halted Launderville but Mullins dashed into the cafeteria nearby.

Janie's mother, Mrs. C. S. Lewis from the neighboring town of Forney, told officers that the tall youth in a black leather jacket grabbed her daughter as they stood in line awaiting food service.

The long vigil followed. Limmer and others talked to Mullins time and again trying to persuade him to release his hostage. Officers said he never gave a motive for holding her or voiced any conditions for freeing her.

"We felt he wouldn't let her go without hurting her," said the police chief, who said he offered to trade places with Miss Lewis but Mullins would not permit him to do so.

Steelworker Election Set Today

By JOHN COTTER
Associated Press Writer
PITTSBURGH (AP) — United Steelworkers went to the polls by thenthousands across the nation today to pick a president in an election that could have a bearing on the entire labor movement.

Reports of the turnout varied from normal to heavy when compared with the last union election four years ago.

President I. W. Abel, seeking a second, four-year term, faced a challenge by Emil Narick, a lawyer working at the union headquarters in Pittsburgh.

"It's a pretty, darn heavy turnout, so far," said a spokesman for Local 1219 at U.S. Steel's Edgar Thomson Works near Pittsburgh. "I don't know exactly how many men voted in the first three hours, but they were really pouring in here when the shifts changed."

Scattered reports from elsewhere in the country showed the vote running from light to heavy. A number of locals said the turnout appeared to be about the same as 1965 when Abel unseated David McDonald for the union's top post.

The 60-year-old Abel, a soft-spoken former mill worker, cast his vote at his home local in Canton, Ohio.

"We are going to have a very good victory," he told reporters.

Pueblo Probers Seek to Determine Extent of 'Classified' Loss

By RICHARD E. MEYER
Associated Press Writer
CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — More intelligence crewmen were summoned to tell the Navy today how much of the USS Pueblo's classified material was destroyed before the ship was captured by North Koreans.

Their testimony was secret, the Navy said, "because of the sensitivity of much of what they're talking about" and because its disclosure could harm national defense.

The intelligence crewmen, called communications technicians, were summoned to a court of inquiry investigating the Pueblo's capture last year. Of the 83 aboard, 29 were communications technicians.

The head intelligence detachment was Lt. Stephen Harris, who told the court last week his staff didn't destroy all of the secret material because of North Korean gunfire, "a painfully slow" burning process, what he described as excessive amount of material and heavy smoke.

Today's testimony would be similar, the Navy said, to testimony Monday from the Pueblo's chief communications technician, Ralph D. Bouden, of Washington, D.C., and a member of his team, James Francis Kell, of Honolulu.

Bouden and Kell testified with "particular emphasis on what took place within the research intelligence spaces on the Pueblo when the ship was captured," the Navy said.

"We tried to tear up the publications," Harris told the court. "We reduced them to

57 Deaths Reported in Blizzard

By BOB MONROE
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — With snowplows working around the clock, the Northeast dug out today from the big weekend storm that paralyzed transportation, cut off food supplies in some areas and throttled commerce. Fifty nine deaths were blamed on the storm that blanketed an area from New Jersey to Maine. Three of the dead apparently were asphyxiated in a stalled auto at New York's Kennedy Airport.

Air, rail, bus and auto traffic began to move sporadically late Monday. But a return to normal schedules proved impossible this morning as stalled autos blocked access roads to major bridges, tunnels and highways, heavy snow still blocked the tracks of commuter trains and bus service was slow.

Kennedy Airport, closed for two days, officially reopened this morning as one runway was cleared for takeoffs.

An estimated 4,000 persons remained marooned at the airport overnight. They bedded down on floors, benches, chairs and in some cases in planes. When one line ran out of diapers for infants mothers made do with pillow cases.

Flight operations at Kennedy were expected to resume this morning and at LaGuardia this evening. Newark Airport reopened Monday afternoon and Logan International Airport in Boston Monday night.

Throughout the snowbound section, the failure of delivery trucks to get through drifts of up to 10 feet led to a shortage of milk, bread and other staples.

Both the American and New York Stock Exchanges closed Monday and the city's Com-

Venezuelean Airliner Is Snatched

MIAMI (AP) — A Venezuelan DC9 government-owned jetliner with 74 people reported aboard, including two officers of the Venezuelan army, was hijacked to Cuba today—reportedly by a band of five armed individuals. The U.S. Federal Aviation Administration said in Miami the Aeropostal flight landed at Santiago in extreme eastern Cuba at 8:28 a.m. EST.

The FAA identified the plane as Flight 305 but aviation officials at Caracas said it was Flight 519.

Among the 69 passengers and five crew members reported by Aeropostal were two Venezuelan army majors identified as Luis Saules and Humberto Villa. The passenger count was one higher than originally reported.

The FAA said the plane took off from Maracaibo at 6:33 a.m. bound for Caracas from the oil center about 350 miles west of the capital. Pilot Vladimir Fernandez reported to the control tower at Caracas a short time later that a hijacker had ordered the plane to Havana.

Mixed-Drink Bill Badly Defeated

By ED SHEARER
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas House finally got a chance to vote on a mixed-drink bill Monday and, as expected, crushed a proposal to allow the state Alcoholic Beverage Control Board to issue permits for the sale of drinks in wet counties without a local option election.

The vote was 11-84 on the bill by Rep. Allan Dishongh of Little Rock.

Meanwhile, the lower chamber attached an amendment to the administration's local option mixed-drink bill to provide for the serving of drinks in private clubs in dry counties.

The administration measure has been gaining strength in the House and some legislators say the amendment will increase chances of passage.

Dishongh's measure, HB 125, triggered about 45 minutes of debate in which Reps. James C. "Bud" Dawson of Conway and John Miller of Melbourne expressed outspoken opposition to it.

Dawson began by saying there were two terrible mixed-drink bills in the House and "this is worse than the other one."

"I know what liquor will do to anybody," Dawson said. "I don't suppose there's a man in this House that has drunk as much as Bud Dawson."

"I like whiskey," he said. "I guess you could call me an alcoholic."

He said passage of the bill would make alcohol more readily available and he blamed this

Red Trawlers Close in But Quit Fishing

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP) — Seven Russian trawlers from a Communist fishing fleet rode out high winds and heavy seas less than 12 miles off the Virginia coast today, the Coast Guard said.

The trawlers and some 90 others in the fleet had been warned Saturday that fishing within the 12-mile zone was reserved for U.S. vessels and violators would be seized, but a Coast Guard spokesman said none of the Russian ships in the zone now were fishing.

Winds of 45 knots and 10-foot seas whipped the area between Hampton Roads and the North Carolina border Monday night where five 800-foot factory ships and an estimated 75 trawlers remained concentrated 15 to 30 miles offshore.
